

Chris Brauer, Lecturer, Online Journalism, Dept of Journalism City University

Chris Brauer leads the online journalism module as a staff lecturer for over 300 graduate students in the world-famous Department of Journalism at City University, London. He is currently completing his PhD in sociology and computing at University of London.

Chris owns creative services and management consulting business Smoothmedia, manages a large technology investment fund for London-based Clarity Capital and edits BlogScholar.